Scatola del Tempo rewards Steven Spielberg

Los Angeles—Italian watch winder company Scatola del Tempo has presented director Steven Spielberg with a reward for his enduring commitment at those in need.

The presentation took place during an ARTribe event held in May to raise money for the SPIRAL Foundation, a nonprofit humanitarian organization that works to improve living conditions and healthcare in the most impoverished areas of central Vietnam and eastern Nepal.

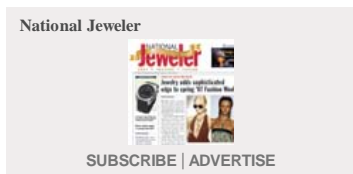

The ARTribe event, the second annual show to raise funds for the SPIRAL Foundation, was held at the Santa Monica Art Studios in Santa Monica, Calif., with participation from the public and from celebrities.

Scatola del Tempo has presented legendary film director Steven Spielberg with a reward for his commitment to those in need.

The watch brand said in a media release that "Among the latter, Steven Spielberg stood out—once again—for his great availability and generosity."

A legendary director and one of Hollywood's most influential producers, Spielberg has been behind some of the best-known films in history, including Jaws, E.T. and the four Indiana Jones installments, to name a few.

Spielberg isn't the first cinema great that Scatola del Tempo has rewarded. The brand previously presented awards to actor/director Forest Whitaker and director George Lucas of Star Wars fame.
